THIEVES HIT YMCA CAMP SECOND TIME

$20 Worth of Equipment Taken From Site at Ringing Hill

WORK OF CAMPERS DESTROYED BY YOUTHS

Young thieves, more bent on the satisfaction of destruction than on ordinary thievery, twice have plundered the YMCA day camp in Sunset park, Ringing Hill, it was learned last night.

They stole equipment valued at $20, but they broke and smashed the Summer creations of young campers—creations on which no monetary value could be placed.

"It was the things they broke that hurt most—the plaster of paris work of the boys, their handiwork, the things they had worked over for a month and wanted their parents to see," said Gerald G. Fling, director of youth work at the YMCA, who operates the Summer camp.

The camp closed this past Friday. It began on June 20.

When camp was broken, the 12-by-12 foot frame building, containing equipment, was boarded shut.

WHEN FLING went to the building on Tuesday he found it had been entered through the front door. Missing were several new archery bows, several ball gloves and a new shovel. He estimated the value of stolen items at $20.

Fling explained, "It must have been the work of small children. They entered through a small hole in the front door—a hole no more than 14 inches square. They then handed out the stolen things through the hole."

"There were more valuable items in the building, but they wouldn't go through the hole." Young vandals previously had

Lack of Workers Delays Test at Green Lane Park

Lack of manpower yesterday was blamed by the State Department of Health for length of time taken in completing water tests at Upper Perkiomen park at Green Lane.

The State is still making sampling tests at the Montgomery county park beach and a survey of the Deep Creek watershed, which feeds the park lake.

Tests and survey are requirements for a public bathing permit which the county has applied for. The question of chlorination of the water will depend upon the outcome of the tests, a spokesman for the State office said yesterday.

The health department spokesman said lack of manpower has prevented a speedup in the preliminary work. Only one and sometimes two men are making the tests.

Meanwhile, the popular park lake has been closed to swimming.

Heinz Gerhard Pochmann, German accounting student now visiting Pottstown on an international good will tour, takes a look at an American brand of his national beverage. For Pochmann, however, it's only a look, for he's far too busy visiting local industries and meeting people to have time for a brew. Besides, he prefers the traditional American milkshake.

Visitor Likes Value of 'Time'

"Americans are living in a fourth dimension of time," in the opinion of Heinz Gerhard Pochmann, German student now visiting Pottstown.

"By this I mean that they seem to have a certain amount of time to do everything," he continued. "They'll say they will sit and talk for just so long, then they must go shopping, or to the office. Everything seems to be based on time, even the payments on furniture."

Pochmann, who has been in the borough since July 19, is being sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce and the International Research fund.

He is now staying at the home of Carl Hofheinz, 1443 Sunset

No Motor This Time

Frank Lawrence, of Schwenksville, who has been flying conventional aircraft since 1947, tried flying without a motor during a meeting this week of the Soaring Society of America at Elmira, N. Y. Lawrence soloed after ten practice flights.

Just Like the Birds

Schwenksville Man Gets Glider Wings

A Schwenksville flying enthusiast discovered this week that the birds feel like as they soar through the blue.

Frank Lawrence, Godshall road, Schwenksville, attended a gliding meet of the Soaring Society of America, held at the Chemung airport, Elmira, N. Y. this week, where he learned to glide and became a member of the club.

The meet at Elmira, the gliding capital of the United States, lasting from July 24 to July 27, proved to be a great thrill for Lawrence, who has been flying conventional aircraft for pleasure since 1947.

Gliding, Lawrence explained, utilizes two weather elements: updrafts caused by the heat rising from the ground, called "thermals," and updrafts caused by the wind glancing off the face of the mountain, called "ridges" in flying jargon.

THE "THERMALS" and "ridges" were perfect for gliding

COLD FRONT CHASES HEAT FROM AREA

Refrigerated Air Mass From Canada Brings Relief

MODERATE WEATHER FORECAST FOR TODAY

Refrigerated breezes swept into the Pottstown area from Canada early last night and chased the stubborn heat wave back to its natural haunts further south.

Pottstowners felt as if they had opened a refrigerator in a hot kitchen when the cool air arrived shortly after 6 p. m.

The refreshing breezes were the leading edge of a cool air mass that should bring livable temperatures in the 80s today, weathermen explained.

Perspiring local and area residents expected cooling rain instead of cool air when dull gray clouds began piling up against the hot, steel-blue sky in late afternoon.

But only a few drops fell as the stagnant air of the past few weeks made a hasty retreat before the vigorous breezes.

Ninety degree temperatures were wilting home-bound workers when the cool air struck.

BUT SUDDENLY the mercury went into a slump that made the temperature record look like the sales chart of a Christmas tree company in January.

Temperatures climbed from a

Keeping Others Cool Becomes Hot Job for Workers

Air-conditioning men had to sweat at their work of keeping Pottstown cool during the heat wave.

Breakdowns of cooling equipment kept the maintenance men on the move 12 to 14 hours a day in some cases.

"We had 20 to 30 calls a day," Alfred H. Haas Jr., 30 West Fifth street, estimated. "It was a rare day when we got a chance to cool off ourselves."

Haas, who is in business with his father, explained that men who make the indoor weather can't stick around to enjoy its benefits.

"WE WORK in the room that houses the equipment," said Haas, "and the motors there run the temperature up to 110 degrees."

Sometimes, though this equipment is in the room that's to be air-conditioned.

"But as soon as we get things cogled off we're off to the next trouble spot," Haas sighed.

Joseph A. Giansante, proprietor of the Pottstown Refrigeration and Ventilating company, said his calls

Suspension Ends, Wentzel Returns To Courthouse

Earl E. Wentzel, of 138 Beech street, veteran county employee suspended a month ago, has been reinstated and will return to work in the courthouse, Norristown, on Monday.

William J. Boden, recorder of deeds and Pottstown GOP leader, who suspended Wentzel when the veteran county worker failed to report to work, last night reported that Wentzel had been reinstated to his job in the photostat department of the recorder of deeds office.

Wentzel was suspended after he mysteriously disappeared during a weekend at the shore.

His trouble in New Jersey included an assault in Atlantic City by a thug who stole his money and his arrest on a traffic charge in Runnemede, N. J., on his way home.

THREE DAYS after his arrest in Runnemede, Wentzel's family learned that he was in jail there.

He was released on bail and at a subsequent hearing was convicted of disorderly conduct.

Wentzel's wife has been a patient in Memorial hospital since shortly after her husband's troubles in New Jersey.

She is reported to be in "serious" condition.

Sportsmen to Probe Slaughter of Fishes

Area sportsmen are irked and worried about the death of fish in the Schuylkill.

They believe the fish are dying from industrial wastes in the river and they are undertaking a full-scale investigation. If their suspicions can be substantiated they will act swiftly through official channels.

Meanwhile, the State has received numerous complaints from individuals on the heavy death rate of fish in the alleged pure waters of the Schuylkill.

The complaints have been filed with the Norristown district office of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, and Stanley H. Sword, supervising resident engineer, is investigating.

Frank Glutz, chairman of the Lower Pottsgrove Sportsmen association fish committee, is heading an investigation for the association.

THE FISH committee was out yesterday and Wednesday checking various points in the river.

Paul Koren, a member of the committee, said that a complaint would be filed with the Montgomery County Federation of Sportsmen if the condition could not be remedied.

The fish committee believes that fish are dying from industrial wastes at places up and down the river.

Stephen Keller, 552 Beech street, out on a one-man private investigation, said schools of suckers, carp and catfish seek the cold water where it empties into the river and possibly die from the ammonia. He said he caught six "sluggish" fish in his hands at a place where a small bubbling stream comes down to the river from a cold storage plant.

THE STREAM, which flows into the river, 100 yards east of the Hanover street bridge, is quite cold. Dead fish can be seen in number around the mouth of the stream. The pebbles in the stream around the water are very clean, possibly from chemicals in the water, but the river water out from the stream is covered with a green algae carpet.

Sportsmen have hinted that other plants are dumping wastes or chemicals into the river which are harmful to fish, but they are awaiting the results of an all-out investigation.

Dead fish have been spotted from the Schuylkill bridge in Roversford.

Deadline Sunday Night

Car Inspection Stations Rushed

Cars are rolling into State inspection stations in the borough these days almost as fast as they come off the assembly lines.

Deadline for the semi-annual inspection to make sure autos are in good running order is midnight Sunday. Failure to get an official sticker on the lower right corner of your windshield means a fine of $10 and costs if you're caught driving.

Spokesmen at the borough's numerous inspection stations yesterday reported a rush business. Many of them said it's busier than the past January or July periods.

In some cases, the stations have been busy ever since the inspection period opened, the first week of May.

Marvin Reider of Pottstown Automobile company said, "We've been busy. I'd say 10 percent more than last year. It's been steady, though, with no particular last minute rush, although we've had to turn a few away today."

A SPOKESMAN at Ludwick Motors, Third and Hanover streets, said, "Frankly we were busiest during the first two weeks. It seems everybody wants to be first."

He added, "It's a much bigger inspection for us. More than in January."

More inspections than last year were reported at Cates and Becker, 323 West High street.

"There are plenty to be done yet," Charles Fiss, service manager, said. "More people seem to have waited this year than at other inspections. We have had more than ever this past week."

MORE PEOPLE waiting until near deadline for inspection of brakes, lights and steering mechanisms was the report from Pottstown Lincoln-Mercury.

"It's been rather heavy the past two weeks," said an attendant.

Mrs. John Horosky, wife of the owner of a garage and inspection station at Kenilworth, said, "I don't know. I guess it's the heat, but more people seem to be waiting until the last minute. We've been very rushed. And we have done more than last year."

Another "busy" report came from Paul's Repair service, 981 Beech street.

Here an attendant complained, "It seems that the worst cars are always the last, too."

Pottstown Police Will Rotate Shifts Monday as New Schedule Starts

Pottstown police will rotate shifts on Monday and officers will remain on new shifts for six weeks—a switch from the old schedule which changed shifts every 13 weeks.

The dayshift of Sgt. Michael Shanta and Desk Sgt. Paul I. Gallo—8 a. m. to 4 p. m.—will serve from midnight to 8 a. m.

The second shift of Sgt. Irvin K. Frederick and Desk Sgt. John A. Kirlin—4 p. m. to midnight—will rotate to the dayshift, and the third shift of Sgt. Paul J. Smith and Desk Sgt. Anthony H. Herman—midnight to 8 a. m.—will be on duty from 4 p. m. to midnight.

Burgess John B. Hartenstein Jr. explained the decrease in the schedule rotation from 12 weeks to six weeks.

"We made a survey and decided a shorter rotation might work out better. With a six-week rotation, men still won't have to work the same seasons each year, but they won't rotate through the different seasons as rapidly as they had under the 13-week schedule."

THE ROTATING schedule was initiated by Hartenstein in the Spring of 1954. An equal rotating schedule had long been a hot issue under former Burgess William A. Griffith, who repeatedly refused to change the schedule.

Officers in recent weeks had complained that the 13 weeks between rotations was too long a period.

Under the new schedule, Detectives Lewis M. Borgiet and Thomas A. Lawler will continue to switch first and second shift duty every two weeks.

Lieut. Harold E. Hahn will con-

Pottsgrove Joint Board Okay Hiring Three Teachers, Loyalty Oaths Planned

Three new teachers were appointed last night by the West Pottsgrove school board after recommendations were given by a teachers committee of the Pottsgrove school jointure.

They are Mrs. Dorothy Thalmir, 242 Oak street, school nurse for Lower and West Pottsgroves.

Mrs. Nancy Bixler, Reading, a graduate of Lebanon Valley college, for vocal music teacher in Upper and West Pottsgroves.

Daniel A. Casciano, Birdsboro, mathematics teacher in West Pottsgrove school.

Mrs. Thalmir formerly was a school nurse at Lower Pottsgrove and Collegeville schools. Mrs. Bixler and Casciano have had no previous teaching experience. Casciano is a 1953 graduate of West Chester State Teachers college and a veteran.

The three new teachers are only part of the extra staff required by the three townships this fall. Teachers of English, social studies and industrial arts will be hired at the discretion of Supervising Principals Robert L. Fisher of West Pottsgrove and Glenn L. Turner of Lower Pottsgrove.

low of 78 at 8 a. m. yesterday to a high of 90 at 6 p. m. From there they went into a steep nose-dive that took the mercury to a comfortable sleeping level of 74 at midnight.

Blighting heat and humidity clung to the area until the very end yesterday. Clouds cut off the sun most of the morning and early afternoon while the temperature inched upward.

Then the blazing sun showed its stern and unrelenting face until moving clouds announced the advancing cool air.

RELATIVE HUMIDITY kept pace with mounting temperatures yesterday. At 7 p. m. it still was a clammy 74 percent with the mercury standing at 81 degrees.

Temperature and relative humidity added up to 135 at 7 p. m. A total of 130 is needed for comfort, experts say.

Samuel W. Egoft, foreman of the Pottstown water system pumping station at Bramcote reported that 5,700,000 gallons of water were pumped into the reservoirs in the past 24 hours.

The water level didn't fall as it did Wednesday. Egoft commented. The level in the reservoir yesterday stood at 16½ feet—only slightly below the normal 17 to 18 feet.

YESTERDAY'S COOL air invasion may mean the end of 90-plus temperatures here for this month. July had 16 days on which the mercury soared to 90 degrees or more.

Superheated days and light rain-fall have been blighting summer landscapes in the Pottstown area. Parched brown lawns, wilted truck-patches and stunted field crops attest the scanty total of a half-inch rainfall so far in July.

Today will be mostly cloudy with a high of 74 to 82. Tomorrow will be fair with moderate temperatures.

the Royersford Hunting and Fishing association, explained. "There has to be something in the water somewhere."

DEAD CATFISH were spotted from the Royersford bridge and they are pretty tough. As a charter member of the Schuylkill River Restoration association, I will do what I can to determine the cause of death to fish and to eliminate that cause."

The association, which includes members from Philadelphia, west in Schuylkill river communities, is dedicated to the complete restoration of the once pure waters of the river.

Clemens asserted, "If anyone knows of a source of pollution of industrial waste, they should contact the State Fish Commission, the department of forests and waters or a local sportsman's association."

Since the State dredging and cleaning of the Schuylkill, the river has become a favorite of anglers.

THE RIVER has been stocked the past two years with bass and catfish and is considered a "good" bass stream.

Even rainbow and brook trout have ventured from fresh, swift streams into the Schuylkill, and learned that they can survive in the once dark and polluted waters.

"That's what makes the present situation so unfortunate," Clemens added. "We certainly hope to do something quickly."

Sword, who is pushing the investigation for the State, has written to Thomas B. Karper, district fish warden, Norristown, and George Elias, regional sanitary engineer.

Elias and George F. Hare, sanitary investigator for the State department of health, Philadelphia, and Karper, yesterday were investigating the cause of fish killings.

have kept three men busy.

"WE'VE BEEN working 12 to 14 hours a day," he commented.

The prolonged heat wave knocked out even the mammoth 100-ton conditioning unit at the New York store.

"A valve blew out," Harry Hoffman, store partner explained. "We had to get new valves and new safeties."

Mrs. Gertrude Kessler, manager of Kessler's store, said she has had her troubles with the 10½-ton system there.

"It's OPERATING now," she reported cautiously, "but I'm keeping my fingers crossed. If you keep a system running all the time with no rest, I suppose the motors get tired."

Lack of water was mentioned by Haas as a cause of air-conditioning system breakdowns.

It seems if the system uses boron water and the pressure gets low, the system quits operating.

This can be remedied by installing a cooling tower and using the same water over and over, it was explained.

ERNEST T. HANDLEY, general manager of the Firestone plant, said he's heard of no trouble with the heavy-duty air-conditioning equipment there.

"Of course the operations in some plant sections produce more heat than the cooling equipment can handle," he added, "but offices and most plant rooms are comfortable."

Firestone has probably the biggest air-conditioning system in this area, Handley commented. All but some of the newer sections of the huge, windowless plant are included.

"The plant was engineered for air-conditioning when it was built during World War II," the plant manager explained. "That kind of machinery doesn't break down so easily."

A SIX-INCH layer of water covers the flat plant roof, he added. This helps keep the inside air cool also.

"The roof looks like a lake," Handley said. "We get a few sea gulls up there once in a while and we're raising some fine algae on the surface."

How cool the air should be in an air-conditioned room is a hot topic of conversation among air-conditioning men and their customers.

Haas says he recommends a temperature of 78 to 85 degrees and 50 to 55 percent relative humidity.

"TEN DEGREES less than the outside temperature is a good rule," he advised. "More than that is too much change for the human body."

Hospitals, though, require 75 degrees and no re-circulation of the same air, he added.

"If you don't have enough humidity in the air you can have an explosion in an air-conditioned room," Haas revealed. "Especially in a hospital, where static electricity could touch off a mixture of air and ether."

Persons who live in air-conditioned houses get accustomed to the cool temperatures, said Haas, and expect their equipment to make it cooler every year.

Child Dies After Surgery In Philadelphia Hospital

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Leroy and Mary Ellen Dotterer, Boyertown RD 2, died in Children's hospital, Philadelphia, late last night, several hours after an emergency operation.

The child, born yesterday in Pottstown hospital, was extremely ill at birth and was rushed to the Philadelphia hospital in the Good Will ambulance.

A surgeon spokesman at Children's hospital said, "The child suffered an abdominal condition at birth. The operation we performed on her was not a rare one, but her condition was very, very critical and we knew her chances of survival were very slim."

They will be among 320 Philadelphia area men spending the weekend at the retreat headquarters, Stephen J. Vagasky, retreat captain, revealed.

Men of all faiths are invited to join the group, Vagasky said. They may register by calling Charles Palladino, secretary.

Associate captains of the retreat group include Anthony Confino, Peter J. Grimm, Carroll W. Hadley Jr., Michael S. King, Henry L. Koch, Frank J. Koire, Sylvester Peterka, William J. Roberts, Anthony F. Rodgers, Walter Zawisack and Martin D. Paoli.

Goodrich has 15,000 employees in Oaks, Akron and Marion, Ohio; Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Miami, Okla.; Cadillac, Mich.; Los Angeles, Clarksville, Tenn., and Riverside, N. J.

The union previously announced it would hold wage talks with the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, which includes 2000 Pottstown employees, on Aug. 9 in Cleveland.

Just like his big cousin in Florida, the alligator can be a mean creature to catch. Neiffer said he was recently bitten on the finger while trying to pick up his pet.

SAID THE owner, "I told the kids who were looking for him to be sure to touch him with a stick before they tried to pick him up. He'll bite that first and then you have to quickly pick him up before he gets another chance."

Like many people these hot summer days, the alligator may be homesick for his family and have decided to take a trip back to Florida. Anyone finding a lonely creature hitchhiking to the South, be sure to use a stick first and pick up later.

Judge Rules Blond Is Liability, Not Asset

MUSKEGON, Mich., July 28 (AP) — Circuit Judge Henry L. Beers, hearing a divorce property settlement case, ruled today that "a blond is not an asset, but a liability."

The ruling involved an item listing "a blond" in division of $25,000 common property in a divorce suit. The plaintiff's counsel termed the blond "the cause of the separation and divorce" and said she should be worth something in settlement.

Judge Beers said: "I have known too many men in similar cases who will argue with great force based on sad personal experience that such an item is not an asset but is rather a tremendous liability."

The influence of individual character extends from generation to generation. The world is molded by it.—Alexander MacLeod.

Famous for Our Stews!

HAVE a clam stew, Pottstown style? Well, we have clam stew. Boston style (that's the white kind, made with cream) and there's Manhattan stew (that's the red, tomato, tangy type).

So why not Pottstown? It can be as famous as Boston or New York! A couple of ambitious Pottstowners, Horace "Bud" Swavely, and Russell W. Riley, are embarking on a business that may make Pottstown stews known in every dining room. They're opening a plant on Sembling avenue that'll prepare the stews and then freeze them.

Swavely will be culinary expert. Riley the promoter and salesman. Swavely invented the concentrated clam stew a couple of years ago, manufactured some here, but didn't have the facilities to put them on the market.

Riley has been a salesman "all his life." He's a native of Massachusetts, so he knows his seafood. He's selling frozen meat now, is so enthusiastic about the new product that he says he'll outsell all competition!

Right now the couple plans to hire only 10-15 employees. But they envision a huge factory that will turn out enough clam stews to feed the nation!

The two men deserve a pat on the back. They're bringing another small industry to Pottstown, one that will diversify further the products of the community of opportunity. All Pottstown wishes them good luck in their venture.

Dust of Old Summers

DUST used to be a mark of summertime, particularly in the country. A cloud of dust would denote the progress of team and vehicle along the road, sometimes completely hiding them from view.

The old methods of cutting grass with a binder, shocking the bundles and then hauling the bundles to a puffing threshing machine all contributed greatly to the creation of dust.

From mid July through August, dust laid a patina of gray upon the landscape, save when thunderstorms washed things clean.

But since the effects of Summer rains soon pass, the face of nature commonly was a dusty one. Heat and dust were lumped together in complaints about the weather.

Yet, as usually is the case, there were at least a few compensations for the air-borne grime.

It was a simple though mighty joy to come in from harvest chores—hot, tired and covered with dust—and to revive body and spirits with a dousing at the pump.

Or to hurriedly peel off one's clothing for a cooling dip in the creek before supper.

In the last ride of the day from the fields the dust made a haze in the air which softened all outlines and intensified the colors from the rapidly descending sun.

Then in the quiet of the evening, when a good meal and twilight had worked their relaxing magic, it was good to sit a while in the farmyard, dreaming to the sounds of crickets and frogs, or horses stomping in their stalls, and smelling the fragrances which night amplified—of flowers and fruits and grasses plus the not unpleasant pungency of dust.

Have You an Idea?

JOHN W. WEIDENSAUL, venerable Pottsonian, called this department yesterday to elicit his interest in parking plans. His call was an indication of the intense interest here in finding a solution to Pottstown's problems.

Mr. Weidensaul had an idea to make a parking lot of Memorial park, then to shuttle shoppers back and forth in paid busses.

The plan may not be popular with park people. But there may be some merit to it.

At least it shows Pottstown is thinking. Further, it shows Pottstowners are sympathetic to the Mercantile bureau's plans to whip the traffic glut.

Here's hoping more local folks give sober thought to parking plans. Merchants will appreciate their plans. Write The Mercury today if you have a pet plan you think will work.

Horse on Them

CONGRESS seems to favor a stable government, judging from the amount of stalling it does.

Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS, July 28. Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by The Mercury where a frozen clam stew foundry is to be opened in Pottstown. Things certainly will become complicated if Mamma mistakes the frozen stew for ice cubes and uses 'em to chill the lemonade!

Frozen clam stew has a tasty appeal. But I don't think it ever will replace ice cream as a topper for pie-a-la-mode!

And say: July's weather is bound to break all known records because of the prolonged heat and drought. So even thoughts of a frozen clam stew are welcome these days!

Hopin' you air the same. GRAMPAW NED OAKLEY

Out-of-Towners Hails Action on Downtown Parking

Had to Shop Elsewhere To the Editor: For years we came to Pottstown to shop because we liked the stores and the courteous shown shoppers. Then, when they metered blocks away from High street and put out other parking restrictions, we stopped.

Now the Pottstown merchants are beginning to see the light that has been shining in their eyes for years. Gradually, they were being squeezed out by lack of parking space in the immediate downtown shopping section.

We got tired driving around, looking for a place to park. Then, the few parking spaces that were available became less and less scarce. We just couldn't stand it any longer.

I am just guessing, but wouldn't there have been opportunities in the last 10 years to acquire public parking space that might not be available now? In other words, wouldn't a little more foresight than have paid off?

You've got a wonderful town. Maybe only now you are starting to realize it and are making it available to the people from outside, too.

WASHINGTON

Roosevelts Feud

Over Memorial

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 29.—A private feud has broken out between the Oyster Bay and Hyde Park Rooseveltians over whether T. R. or F. D. R. shall have priority in the construction of a massive memorial monument at the Nation's Capital.

Although the two most distinguished members of the rival clans—Eleanor and Alice—refuse to become involved, their abstinence does not apply to partisans of the Republican Roosevelt and the Democratic Roosevelt. In fact, it has been a long-simmering quarrel.

It has erupted now because of the action of a House Committee in voting $10,000 to study the question of how F. D. R. shall be honored.

The immediate cause of controversy is where the proposed statue or structure, such as the Washington Monument and Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, shall be built.

TAFT SHAFT STARTS F. D. R. MOVE: Ironically, the Democratic Rooseveltians won their demand for memorializing their hero because of the Congressional decision for a shaft on Capitol Hill in honor of the late Senator Robert A. Taft, bitterest legislative foe of the New Deal.

Although many members feel that too many statues now clutter the Capital, they could hardly oppose a material tribute to the World War II leader of Democratic's cause.

Several years ago, F. D. R.'s worshippers organized a movement to build a huge representation of him on the Virginia hills alongside Arlington Cemetery and the Robert E. Lee Mansion. The site forms the fourth corner of a rectangle, whose other three corners are occupied by the memorials to Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln.

Serious opposition arose. It was argued that the tract would be needed some day as an addition to overcrowded Arlington Cemetery. The high ground overlooking Washington and the Potomac River was suggested as a site for the nation's largest and most modern military hospital. As a result of these disputes all plans for use of these historic acres fell through.

T. R. SHRINE VIA ROWBOAT: Meanwhile, the only tribute to Theodore Roosevelt, who transformed the United States into a major world power, is an undeveloped wilderness of an island on a sluggish branch of the Potomac River, which can be reached only by rowboat.

The Roosevelt Association is now trying to block erection of a bridge over the island on the ground it will disfigure the shrine.

Thus, even in death, these two provocative and picturesque Presidents cause strife among their survivors.

UNJUSTIFIED INDICTMENT: Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson was discussing the Truman Administration's antitrust indictment of the du Pont interests. The Department of Justice tried to support its accusation by linking the du Pont firm with General Motors, which Wilson then headed.

The du Ponts' heavy stock holdings in G. M., the Government charged, induced the automobile company to buy all its paint, rubber and many plastic materials from the Delaware corporation. The suit was eventually thrown out of court by a Federal judge as unjustified and unproven.

"The charge of a G.M.-du Pont tie-up," mused Wilson, "was silly. I remember that once we General Motors guys had to have a business conference with quite a few du Pont executives at Wilmington. And every one of those so-and-so's, our co-conspirators in the alleged monopoly, drove up in Chryslers!"

He is often dangerous, too, for the love may be entirely one-sided, as is true in Violet's case.

Or you may fall in love with a rotter who is totally unsuited to you. But he still has that magic power to zoom your pulse and blood pressure.

The other type of love is what we psychologists call "earned love." In it you date a classmate or acquaintance without any special fondness at the start.

But as you share mutual pleasant dates at the theater or at athletic events and parties, all those apparently tinged episodes become emotionally linked with the other person.

You may even slowly fall in love without fully realizing the fact. Maybe threatened separation or the competition of another girl, may suddenly open your eyes to the fact that you are ardently in love.

Meanwhile, of course, you have had time to get well acquainted. Your parents meet him and vice versa. You have mutual friends.

"DR. CRANE, how can a person fall in love at first sight," Violet asked. "This man certainly never earned my affection."

No, but other men had, whom this stranger resembled in some vague way. For example, Violet was very fond of her father. She also was devoted to a couple of older brothers. She had male cousins whom she admired very much.

So, "earned love" which her father and brothers or cousins had built up in Violet, may have become fastened to some odd little gesture or tone of voice, or a facial characteristic like the curve of the chin or arch of the nose, etc.

The name and complete address of the author must accompany every contribution but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 250 words will receive preference.

A Serious Matter

To the Editor: A Poor Mother (Injustice Charged by "Across-the-Tracks" Mother, Readers Say, July 27) has raised her voice on a question that takes a lot of courage.

When our burghess and police department enforce the laws on the basis of whether or not a person comes from a poor or well-to-do family, the people of Pottstown should be seriously concerned.

You and I know that the "ticket-fixing" that was going on for a long time was done to accommodate the people who actually could most afford to pay the fines.

I once heard the remark, "I'll buy my way out of that police station."

Can it be true that our police, so many of them fine and honest men, are permitting their names to be unjustifiably blackened by the actions of their superiors in cases such as this?

There is an election this year and I, for one, will vote for the man who promises fair and impartial treatment for everyone.

The guy who shakes the hand of the other fellow and says, "If you do this for me I'll do a favor for you" should be out on the street shaking hands, not in borough hall running our government.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

VIOLET R., aged 19, is a beautiful coed in New York City.

"Dr. Crane, I want some advice immediately," she begged, and her eyes shone like stars.

"Last week I fell in love. It was love at first sight, too. I had never seen the man before that minute, but just one look and my heart stood still.

"I felt weak all over and thought my knees would give way. It was the most unique experience I have ever gone through.

"But this man doesn't seem remotely interested in me. And now I find that he is married and has two children.

"So I'm in a terrible state of mind. I can't sleep and I can't eat. I feel as if life isn't worth going on."

THERE ARE two ways of falling in love. The first is the sudden love-at-first-sight variety.

It hits you like a bolt of lightning. That's what happened to me when I was 16, as I'll explain more fully tomorrow.

It is often dangerous, too, for the love may be entirely one-sided, as is true in Violet's case.

Or you may fall in love with a rotter who is totally unsuited to you. But he still has that magic power to zoom your pulse and blood pressure.

DOLLAR DOWN, 100 YEARS TO PAY

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

His Pride and Joy . . . Wedding Bells Now . . .

THE PASSING SCENE

—The elderly man in the neatly pressed dark suit and felt hat (it was 88 degrees at that moment) carefully eased his spottish and shiny 1935 Packard into a King street parking space yesterday. He slipped out of the seat and eased the door shut. Slowly and meticulously, he bent over — almost on his knees — and inspected the underside of his car. Then, the tail lights. He shook each one, but firm they were. Next came rear bumper inspection. That, too, moved nary a fraction of an inch as he grabbed it. Then from tire to tire he went, running his hand softly over the barely-worn treads. This done, he walked onto the sidewalk, turned around and gave his pride and joy an overall inspection. Money in the meter, he walked off. Returning about 10 minutes later, he repeated the entire inspection — step by step — then drove off!

ROMANCE TRIUMPHS

—It's always pleasant to report happy events — like the long-delayed plans for the wedding of JOHN HALLMAN, former Pottstown High and Legion baseball star, and SALLY LOU MAYER.

Early in June, the young couple had worked out all details for their marriage on July 17. But the Army said no and drafted John with the June 15 quota from Pottstown. That threw a monkey-wrench into all the plans. John and Sally Lou didn't cancel the whole affair, however. They merely postponed it until John got his first Army furlough. On Aug. 20 Pvt. Hallman will be flying from Fort Jackson, S. C., where he's taking basic training, to Pottstown for a 14-day furlough. So he and Sally Lou have set the next day for their afternoon marriage in Grace Lutheran church. That's if the Army doesn't interfere again! John is a son of MR. AND MRS. LEROY HALLMAN, 719 Beech street, and his bride-to-be is a daughter of MR. AND MRS. ELWELL MAYER, 454 Spruce street. She's a secretary at the National Bank of Pottstown.

CAN YOU HELP?

—A Pottstown area mother deserted by her husband has been washing her four children's laundry by hand. She needs an electric washer. This is a big order, but can someone, including a dealer, perhaps, help out. The Visiting Nurse organization recommends help. Call The Mercury if you have a machine, and we will pick it up and deliver it. . . . N. Douglas Ottinger, the King street real estate agent, is thinking about taking up fishing as a hobby. He's always hopped into his car and taken a ride ("I love to drive," he says) when he wanted to relax. Now, he feels, he'd like to get more into the outdoors. His thoughts about fishing probably are inspired by his associate, Bruce A. Davies, who's a fisherman from 'way back when he grew up out in Iowa.

OFF THE HOOK

—A Lower Pottsgrove resident, trying to get in touch with that township's chief of police, HARRY G. CHRUSCH, 'phoned his home early this week and got a busy signal. The call wasn't an emergency, so the caller tried later in the day. Still a busy signal. Again the township resident waited — this time until the next day. Another busy signal. The caller wondered if the Chrusch 'phone was out of order so he checked with the Bell Telephone company office. A supervisor there reported that the 'phone apparently was off the hook. She passed the word along and, as is usual in such cases, the company sent a man to check at the Chrusch home. It was locked and no one was at home. The explanation: Chief Chrusch is on his annual vacation. Jeffersonville State police are handling his calls while he's away.

DELAYED

—On the subject of vacations, Mr. and Mrs. William Seasholtz, of 458 North Hanover street, had planned theirs for next week. An automobile trip into Canada, then down to Toledo, Ohio, for a visit with Seasholtz's relatives, they thought. Then, about four weeks ago, Seasholtz developed a leg ailment, possibly a result of a virus attack in February. That put him temporarily off his job at the Roversford Needle works. Now he and the wife are waiting for the doctor's go-ahead on the vacation spin. . . . Robert Swenk, Gettysburg college student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Swenk, 143 Main street, East Greenville, is in Summer ROTC training at Fort George F. Meade, Md.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY a vacation gets off to a bad start when one of the vacationers falls victim to motion sickness.

But with medical advances made since the outbreak of World War II, and by using a little common sense, you don't have to suffer any more.

The first symptom of motion sickness usually is an uneasy feeling which causes you to lose interest in whatever you may be doing, even reading or talking with someone.

Even though there may be no visible signs of distress, this is motion sickness. Since you might not actually become ill, you are likely to pass off the experience without another thought.

There are many drugs on the market, most of them antihistamines, which are effective against motion sickness: Dramamine, Bonamine, Marezine and Phenegan, to name only a few. Unfortunately, some of the drugs also have side effects, such as sedation.

Besides taking drugs, there are other things you can do to combat motion sickness. If you have reason to believe you may be susceptible to this ailment, eat only small amounts of food before starting.

Don't read when you are being jostled about. Instead, keep looking off into the distance. Dark glasses are sometimes effective.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR
Of The Mercury Staff

Children enjoy their Summer vacation fun, whether at home, or traveling with their parents in the family car to a shore or mountain resort.

They too, get tired of their daily routine and look forward to the time when they can play and sight-see in a new and exciting place.

The seashore points hold a wealth of entertainment for the tiny tots. They spend many long hours building castles and tunnels in the sand and trying to jump over the ocean waves before they are swallowed up by the sand.

Hunting for seashells is the type of fun youngsters and oldsters take to happily. Many of the boys and girls collect various odd specimens to take home. After their trip is over they are kept occupied displaying their treasures to their friends or perhaps getting out the water paints and glue to set them into a design.

THE SAND still seems to amuse the small fry more than anything at the shore. A vacation trip there just doesn't seem complete unless they have a bucket and shovel and a lot of sand.

They will dig for hours, making cakes and experimenting with various forms in the sand. Often Dad may awake from his afternoon nap in the sun and discover that junior kept amused by burying him under a blanket of golden sand.

Mrs. Thomas Hefflybower and children, Kim and Tommy and Johnny Hartman, all of Spring City RD 1, find their vacation time fun at Beach Haven, N. J., is something they will never forget.

They write, "We are having a wonderful time. The weather has been perfect, but that ocean water certainly is cold."

Seashore sand diggers.

Their postcard shows two young sand diggers, concentrating on their baking talents. They work steadily over the bucket cakes of sand they are making. Dark wet sand often proves to be a good substitute for chocolate icing.

WILDWOOD, N. J., is the vacation spot of Phyl Breuninger, 247 Prospect street. She said, "I am having a swell time here and the weather has been perfect for a trip."

Wildwood-by-the-Sea.

Pictured on her postcard are various types of ocean scenes found at Wildwood-by-the-Sea. Vacationers may enjoy fun on the beach and meeting new friends. Fishing boats may be boarded at a dock and an outing of all-day deep sea catch may be planned. Then too, the beautiful sights by the sea offer much enjoyment. There are beautiful sunsets over the ocean or the splashing waves on the shore line.

Whether you are nine or 90, summer trips are fun. Don't be selfish, share your pleasures and experiences with friends at home. They will want to hear all the latest news from you.

This can be done simply and quickly by merely choosing a black and white postcard, writing out your greetings and mailing it to the Vacation editor, Pottstown Mercury.

Don't forget your friends will be looking for your vacation greetings through the Mercury!

An estate of $25,000 was left by James M. Reigner, 87, of 176 North Hanover street, according to his will filed for probate.

Reigner, who died July 15, was well-known throughout the area through his work as a salesman for a wholesale grocery firm. His will provided that $500 was to go to the Pottstown cemetery company for burial lot care and the balance of his estate was to go to his wife, Elizabeth S. Reigner.

Mrs. Olivia Reintner Sell, widow of William D. Sell, 515 North Charlotte street, disposed of an $11,000 estate by her will. She named four sons and daughter as beneficiaries: Leonard Sell, Mrs. Mildred Ziegler, Ernest Sell and Susan C. Zellers.

Synod Board Finds Lutheran Pastor Guilty of Heresy

MILWAUKEE, July 28 (AP) — A young Lutheran minister accused of heresy by his synod was found guilty today on nine counts of deviating from church doctrine by a trial board of seven other pastors which recommended he be suspended from the ministry. The findings against the Rev. George P. Crist, 31, were returned by the trial board of the Northwest synod. United Lutheran church after three hours of deliberation. Rev. Crist faced 14 charges in the trial action which was recommended by a five member fact finding committee that investigated his case in June.

The trial board, which heard the charges against Rev. Crist in two days of hearings, recommended to the synod president that he be suspended. The board further stated that if the recommendation is followed that Pastor Crist and his family be given adequate financial support by the synod until final disposition of the case at the synod's annual convention in Milwaukee next year.

Pastor Crist was summoned from his home and church at Durham in nearby Waukesha county to hear the verdict. He told the board earlier, at the end of the hearing, that he felt he had received "a fair and complete hearing according to his rights." He smiled after the end of the trial in without warning, swept over the hearing, but said then he was entire class, and carried the girls doubtful that he would escape punishment.

Laziness Saves Actress From Poison Medicine

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—British actress Joan Greenwood picked up a prescription from her London pharmacist yesterday before she took off this country on a trans-Atlantic plane.

The plane arrived her today and Miss Greenwood told newsmen: "I hadn't taken the medicine, anyhow. It was only laziness that saved me. You know how one is about taking medicine. I just put it off."

36 Japanese Swimmers Die in Giant Wave

TSU, Japan, Friday, July 29 (AP) — A great wave surged out of the treacherous Ise sea yesterday and drowned 36 of 47 Japanese Junior high school girls who were taking a swimming test.

Witnesses said the girls were standing in placid waters, waist deep, about 35 feet out from the beach. When the great breaker rolled in without warning, swept over the hearing, but said then he was entire class, and carried the girls out to sea with its fearful under-tow.

Fruit Growers From Four States Tour Ontelaunee, Trexler Orchards in Area

Climaxing a two-day tour in Berks and Lehigh counties more than 600 fruit growers and members of the Appalachian Apple Association and Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland Horticultural societies from four states toured the Boyertown area fruit belt and visited the Trexler orchards, Bechtelsville RD.

Sheldon W. Funk, Boyertown area orchard owner, was master of ceremonies at a chicken barbecue at Ontelaunee orchards, West Leesport. It was at this meeting that the growers from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia heard Truman Nold, executive secretary of the apple association, predict a drop of nearly 4,000,000 bushels in this year's apple crop.

Nold estimated the apple crop will total 105,575,000 bushels this year, as compared with 109,512,000 last year.

In Berks county the crop is expected to be good. Nold said the present lack of rain is becoming troublesome, but at present is only a surface condition and has not caused any serious harm. Local orchard owners are irrigating peach and apple trees, and are thus easing the effect of the drought.

Apple crops in this area are a week to ten days ahead of their growth at this time last year. In the northwest section, which competes with local growers, the crop is about a week to ten days late.

NOLD CITED the following figures in comparing estimated crops in the various varieties of apples with those of last year: Delicious, 26,490 bushels this year, compared with 23,329 last year; McIntosh 13,610 to 10,898, and Rome Beauty, 7830 to 6976.

Manufacturers' Head Guest on Program

Paul R. Hafer, 28 West Second street, Boyertown, president of the Berks county manufacturers' association and president of the Boyertown Auto Body Works incorporated, was special guest on the Hen Johnston radio show recently. Hafer discussed the National association of manufacturers and told how the Berks county unit feels about new industry locating in the Reading-Berks area.

Hen Johnston was the master of ceremonies on the thirteenth "Boost Berks" program.

Attorneys Hear Experts Testimony In Damage Suit

Attorneys Edwin L. Delong, Walter H. Moll and Howard M. Livingston, viewers appointed by the Berks court, heard testimony in the local damage proceedings of Robert G. Gift, Earl township, against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the taking of land for the improvement of Route 73. An award will be filed after the viewers review the testimony.

Gift, through attorney William George, attempted to show that the damage to his property was caused by road improvements made in 1948 at which time no land was taken.

He claimed that these improvements caused his meadow to be flooded and that the state in 1952 condemned and used 1.39 of an acre of land to correct this condition.

This resulted, Gift claimed, in the loss of a stream running through the field and the clagging of a natural spring. He said the loss of the meadow and the stream forced him to sell cows and horses. Gift further claimed that the water from the spring was unfit for use.

JOHN C. BRADLEY, deputy attorney general succeeded in limiting the testimony to the land taken in 1952. Bradley claimed that 1948 operation has no bearing on the present condition.

Gift valued the property at $14,000 to $15,000 before the taking and $9000 to $11,000 afterwards. Experts called by Gift were Henry Kalbach who valued the property at $10,000 before and $6000 after; and J. Luther Plank, $10,500 before and $5500 after.

The state experts were Wayne K. Leimbach whose estimates were $10,000 before and $9500 after and J. Douglas Kaufman, $11,000 before and $10,400 after.

Morse Seeks to Have Talbott Ousted From Air Force Post

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—A demand for the immediate ouster of Harold E. Talbott as Secretary of the Air Force was voiced in the Senate today by Senator Morse (D-Ore), one of six Senators who voted against Talbott's appointment in February, 1953.

"What is the President waiting for?" Morse asked. "Declaring Talbott's outside business activities constituted a very serious case of malfeasance in government office," Morse said.

"If this Administration thinks that it is going to get the American people to swallow this mess of corruption, it is going to find that the people are going to gag." Morse spoke out after President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that he intended to read the full record of a Senate investigation and then decide personally whether Talbott, an old friend, had violated "a proper standard of ethics."

Asked today whether an offer of resignation had been received at the White House from Talbott, Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said: "No."

ANOTHER OF Eisenhower's Air Force appointments ran into trouble when the Senate Armed Services committee deferred action on the nomination of Dudley C. Sharp to be assistant secretary because Sharp said he wanted to retain his stock in an investment trust.

Sharp, a Houston business man and Republican Finance chairman in Harris county, Texas, would be in charge of Air Force procurement if confirmed.

Sharp acknowledged that some of the companies whose stocks are represented in the fund do business with the government, but none with the Air Force.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) said the Armed Services committee is "trying to determine" whether approval of Sharp's nomination would be consistent with committee policy.

SEN. McCLELLAN (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee which inquired into Talbott's activities as a partner in the New York management engineering firm of Paul B. Mulligan and company, while serving as air secretary, said the group would not be hasty about reporting its finding on Talbott.

The subcommittee ended its public hearings yesterday after Talbott had testified "I now see that I was mistaken" in promoting the Mulligan firm's business from the Pentagon. Talbott said that effective Sunday he is relinquishing the Mulligan partnership, which paid him $132,032 in the 2½ years since he became civilian head of the Air Force.

Talbott declined to comment on a rash of reports that he would resign. He told the Senate subcommittee under oath that he never had used his official position to pressure anyone into giving business to the Mulligan firm.

His mistakes, as he saw them

President Gets Records Of Senate's Talbott Probe

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Transcripts of a Senate hearing on the outside business activities conducted by Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott were delivered to the White House today for President Eisenhower's personal perusal.

The President has said he will study the record in the case that the final decision on whether Talbott will be ousted "is going to be handled by myself personally."

In retrospect, he said, were that he had permitted himself to write letters or make telephone calls about the company while sitting in the Pentagon. The investigation brought out that some of the Mulligan firm's customers had defense contracts with the government.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler issued a statement saying "It is difficult to see how Mr. Eisenhower can retain Mr. Talbott without serving notice, in the eyes of the public, that the President is lowering his administration's standards of integrity for all government officials."

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 28 (AP)—A doctor arrested after the June 16 revolt died during a questioning in which police used violence, authorities admitted today.

Dr. Juan Ingalinella died of a heart attack, the announcement by a Santa Fe Provincial government minister said. Officials described the doctor as a Communist leader in the province.

Opposition party leaders have charged that he was a victim of police torture.

The announcement came shortly before authorities disclosed the release of former Argentine congressman Cipriano Reyes from jail where he has been serving a five-year sentence for plotting to kill President Juan Peron and his late wife, Eva.

ANOTHER OF the alleged plotters, naval Chaplain Victor Jorba Farias, was freed with him. The two were among several persons arrested on Sept. 23, 1948, on charges of planning to assassinate the Perons when they left the State Opera theater the next day.

Reyes was an early Peron supporter and a founder of the old Argentine Labor party which helped Peron win his first election to the presidency in February, 1946.

Dr. Ingalinella disappeared the day after the abortive June

Police Catch Absconding Constable Fleeing With $79,000 Company Payroll

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 28 (AP)—Fifteen minutes after being informed of Biven's disappearance, a runaway constable with $79,000 cash was captured at the Tri-State airport here today after the airliner on which he was bound for Columbus, Ohio, was signaled to land.

Police were waiting and snapped handcuffs on Tom Bivens, 41, of Bluefield, and he handed over a top-grain leather brief case.

"I've had a hard time the last three or four years, with a lot of sickness in the family," Bivens told detective Eris Fry.

"I decided to do something about it, it looks like I did wrong."

WHAT HE DID, police said, was to pick up the payroll for the American Coal company from the Flat Top National bank in Bluefield and abscond with it.

Bivens and another constable, Lewis H. Perdue, normally received the payroll together for delivery to the McComas mine or the American company.

Bivens appeared alone at the bank today, however, and was on his way at 8:15 a. m.

Fast police work and crackling radio calls led to his capture on a Piedmont airlines plane here within four hours.

He was hustled into the airport manager's office while incoming and outgoing plane passengers gaped. The police made a hasty check of the bundles of cash in the brief case. They were all there, in small bills, none larger than $50.

BIVENS WORE a light sports shirt, slacks and a straw cap. He had no other luggage. Sheriff P. L. Dye of Mercer county was credited with the key moves in running the constable

He "figured," Dye said, that Bivens might catch a plane.

There he learned Bivens had boarded the plane, bound for Charleston and Columbus, Ohio, 40 minutes earlier.

DYE IMMEDIATELY called the Charleston State police radio center. The plane had already landed and taken off from the Kanawha airport.

Both the Huntington State police and Civil Aeronautics authority at Kanawha airport were contacted.

Word next was flashed to the airliner to circle the Tri-State airport. It did so briefly, allowing time for the State and Huntington city police to arrive at the scene, and Bivens walked off the plane a prisoner.

Army Ships Atomic Weapons to Far East

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The Army is putting atomic weapons in the hands of its forces standing guard along the Far East perimeter of the Communist world.

It announced today that a six-gun battalion of 280mm cannon and a battery of long-range bombardment rockets are being assigned to the 8th Army in the Far East.

The Army already has six battalions of the 280mm guns in Europe and has announced plans for sending several batteries of the 726 mm. "Honest John" rockets there.

Both the cannon and the rocket can use either conventional explosives or nuclear warheads.

AS HAS BEEN the custom previously, the Pentagon would not say whether atomic ammunition is going along with the weapons or would be flown to the Far East if and when needed.

In announcing the assignment of the weapons to the Far East, the Army said that was being done

Three U. S. former prisoners of the Korean war return from Red China tomorrow to the land they once renounced and will find relatives—and the army—waiting.

When the liner President Cleveland docks from Hong Kong about 1 p. m. (3 p. m. Pottstown time), Army authorities will take them into custody.

They will get a chance to talk to relatives they have not seen since they sailed away to war five years ago, the Army said.

But the freedom they say they longed for when they were in Red China may be far away.

The three are William C. Cowart, 22, Dalton, Ga.; Otho Bell, 24, of Hillsboro, Miss.; and Olympia, 22, Wash., and Lewis W. Griggs, 22, Jacksonville, Tex. They were among 21 American prisoners of cold war was pushed aside. It was the Communists who refused repatriation at the time of the armistice.

Water Hoses Quell Prison Riot

Rioting prisoners at the Bexar County Jail in San Antonio, Tex., defiantly challenge guards and police before their short-lived uprising was quelled by firemen who turned water hoses on the rebels. During their demonstration, the rioters tore up bedding and clothing and dumped garbage in their cell blocks. Captulating an hour and a half after their outbreak, the inmates said they were protesting against bad food and poor medical care.

Israel Protests Plane Incident

JERUSALEM, July 28 (AP)—Israel today protested Communist Bulgaria's destruction of an Israeli airliner as shocking recklessness and demanded compensation. Bulgaria admitted its gunners had shot the big plane's tail off and expressed regret.

Israeli officials described the shooting down of the silver-winged Constellation of El Al Israel Airlines Ltd., which carried 58 persons to death yesterday, as a grave international offense.

With 12 Americans among the dead, the United States also plans a protest "in appropriate terms."

Henry Suydam, State department press officer, said in Washington the United States is indignant at this tragedy behind the Iron Curtain—"repetitious of incidents of this kind which we had earnestly hoped would not recur"—and will file its protest as soon as full information is at hand.

THE UNITED STATES does not have diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, so Washington's document will be relayed through Switzerland.

Diplomatic pressure may develop from other capitals.

Four Britons, four Canadians and a South African were among the dead. Indignation at the incident was expressed by speakers in Britain's House of Commons today.

The plane, downed on the Vienna-Istanbul leg of a flight from London to Israel, also carried five Russian immigrants who planned to join relatives in the holy land.

A sharp note handed to the Bulgarian charge d'affaires in Jerusalem by Walter Eytan, director-general of the Israeli foreign ministry, said Israel "demands full satisfaction from the Bulgarian government, which it holds responsible for a grave international delict (offense)."

BULGARIA ADMITTED today 24 hours after the Constellation fell blazing near the Greek frontier—that its anti-aircraft gunner shot down the plane and non-aboard lived through the crash. It expressed "deep regret" and promised a full inquiry by a military commission.

But an Israeli spokesman said Bulgaria has refused to admit a six-man commission from Israel which proposed to conduct an on-the-spot investigation of its own. That group flew to Athens last night on the way to Sofia, but was reported refused Bulgaria visas.

The new plant, tentatively set for completion by 1962, would compete commercially with generating stations using conventional fuels, Oakes added.

Oakes said a contract has been signed with the Westinghouse Electric corporation as co-developer in the design of the proposed plant and as supplier for the reactor and its related electric generating equipment.

French Influence, Brilliant Color—Highlights of Back to School Fashions

THE ALPHA LINE—originated by Christian Dior, is exemplified in this transitional black jersey dress from the Phyllis Anne dress shop, modeled by Heather Davidheiser. The narrow, softly draped shoulders, widely flaring skirt and wide novelty belt are high style in teen-age fashions for Fall. Miss Davidheiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen K. Davidheiser, 1000 Feist avenue, will enter Pennsylvania State university in September.

THE ENSEMBLED LOOK—is embodied in this outfit from the Marguerite shop, modeled by Barbara Good. A jacket of brown Watch plaid chinchilla, with the new longer line, low set pockets and back belt, tops a beltless contour skirt of charcoal brown men's wear flannel and baby turtle neck blouse of camel color jersey. Miss Good, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Y. Good, 819 North Franklin street, is a member of the class of 1956 of Pottstown Senior High school.

THAT FRENCH IMPACT the mauve on black plaid cotton dress, from the New York store, worn by Judy Fryer, shows the French influence on teen-age fashions, in the long fitted torso, cuffed hip and sharply flaring skirt. "A dream for a teen" said the model, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kenneth Fryer, 121 North Washington street, who will be a ninth grader in Pottstown Junior High school this Fall.

FAVORITE SILHOUETTE—of all teen-agers is the fitted flaring one. For this Fall the fitted line is longer and the flare lower, shoulders are softer and narrower, as shown by this flecked tweed coat from the New York store, modeled by Joy Daniels. Sleeves may be worn full length or pushed up. Miss Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harriman, 1055 North Warren street, is a member of the incoming Senior class of Pottstown Senior High school.

Women's Activities

DEEP COLOR—another fashion highlight for the school set, marks this dress from the Betty Lee shop as very new for Fall. Dancing figures are printed in blue and white on a dark rose background. The wide white collar is fastened with a blue bow. A fruit trimmed pocketbook completes the outfit worn by Kathleen Teszner. This five-and-a-half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Teszner, Pottstown Route 18, will enter first grade at the Upper Pottsgrove school in September.

Full Slate of Brand New Looks Forecast for Teen-Age Clothes

A full slate of brand new looks, bright and shiny as apples for the teacher, give fresh fashion action to back-to-school clothes this year. Interest will be centered around deep-plus-brilliant tones of Fall; the grown-up theme of dyed-to-match in sweaters and skirts; the ensembled look, newly expressed in co-ordinated fabrics.

The fashionable new suspended look of that perennial school favorite, the jumper; the luxury of fur-look Orlon and Dynel pile coatings, are significant in a season that highlights the grown-up look of a teen's wardrobe.

The long torso is more so for Fall. The enthusiastic reception already accorded this new silhouette inspires imaginative new dress, sportswear and coat themes to headline back-to-school styles.

Elongated waistlines wander through all categories of school clothes, in interpretations from cuffed dress hiplines to long line overblouses, to low-placed welting on full-skirted coats, lowered belting on slim-line coats.

Paris-inspired designs hit the teen age market with tremendous impact for back-to-school. The tunic, newest expression of the elongated look, appears in dresses with actual or simulated overskirts, elegant new silhouette in all size ranges.

The "A-Line" is something to shout about in its fashionable exaggeration of the full-skirted or pendulum cut, combined with definitive buttons and beltings for coats, dresses and separates.

Martingale backs, deep inverted back or side pleats and side-seam pockets are newly styled contributions to the fast-growing "French Look," beside being details that the young crowd always goes for enthusiastically.

The long torso look is in the dress picture for Fall bigger than ever and in more varied and sophisticated interpretations.

Smooth and supple, as worked out in torso-defining tops with gently flared or pleated skirts; or crisp, in the jaunty overblouse and long-line jacketed effects—these variations help to give the Fall dress picture its newest fashion life in years.

First school dress looks right in darkened tones, most often plaid or check in deep tone-on-tone or off-beat color combinations. Color news focus is on amethyst and plum shades with their paler contrast tones.

A new interest in greens is worth watching; even classic red and green plaid is done in deep bottle tones with a clear, singing color threaded through.

Browns stage a comeback and are especially attractive in chromatic developments through pumpkin, pinky-orange and rust tones.

It's a great year for plaid, with authentic clan tartans top interest. Much of the current excitement centers on the Black Watch tartan, with Stuart Dress, Campbell and MacPherson plaids offered as most popular alternatives. Variations on the tartan abound, especially liked in now colors worked out in traditional plaid patterns.

Other woven plaids and checks also offer completely new themes this season, with emphasis on deeper shades prevalent for Fall. Olive green and cranberry, dark blue and citron, brown and rust, taupe and orange look new in woven plaid combinations.

The jacket makes the costume this Fall, creating the all important ensembled look in sportswear as well as dresses. Newest looking entry is the longer, torso jacket, belted at the hipline in casual versions.

Skirts for the 7 to 14 age group remain full, often flaring out from the hip under elongated jackets. The perennial fashion, back-to-school jumpers follow new elongated torso lines, low-placed skirt details, slim bodice simplicity.

Scoop and high square necklines adapt to blouses, sweaters or bare arms for dress-up; suspended and apron-top styles most often team with match-up tops.

From party-pretty black velvet to deep plaids, to bright corduroy, jumpers take a girl right through a school-and-date-time schedule.

In coats, there's a new silhouette (the "A-Line"), there's a new fabric (fur like) and there are details and a variety of coatings and colors to stimulate interest.

Color has established itself—there's no fear of pastels for winter; bright shades are plentiful, and new fleeces, tweeds and plush offer individuality in all size ranges.

Narrowing line of the coat silhouette will find its greatest acceptance this Fall. While the true sheath coat is expected to find favor in only high-fashion teen sizes, silhouette of the sub-teen and size 7 to 14 coats is noted as significantly slimmer than ever.

Surprise luxury often shows in the lining: A soft white cloud of Orlon pile, rich fur pattern on corduroy, an expanse of gold velvet.

Straight line tunic effects are suggested by fingertip length teen coat worn over slender skirt in matching or color-coordinated fabric.

Sub-teen interpretation of the slim coat most often introduces fullness by means of gentle gores from the shoulder; of width taken up under each arm; or by modified skirt flare, offset by squared-off pockets.

Plaid linings and scarfs make a strong back-to-school impression in all size ranges. And the plaid boy coat, often Black Watch tartan, is represented in both smooth woolsens and chinchillas.

New look of luxury surrounds the first appearance in the children's coat field of new synthetic, fur-like fabrics. Dynel and Orlon deep-pile coatings are in fun tones of platinum, beige and honey blond and in a few bright colors. Alpaca rides in on the fur-look wave in full-length as well as shortie coats.

If You Can't Wear It, Eat It Says Parisian 'Mad Hatter'

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS, July 28 — A Frenchman has found a new way to serve up spaghetti and dried orange peel. He makes hats out of them.

Really! The spaghetti, cooked and curled on a tulle base, looks like heavy lace. And the orange peel, glued on like shingles, might be a rough straw.

So why not use lace and straw? Well, there isn't any novelty in them, so—

Achille, who likes to be called the "Mad Hatter" of Paris, has got the new season's hat shows off to a screwball start with the spaghetti bonnet. The orange peel number, besides smelling like a fruitcake, drips raisin-sized diamonds over one eye.

More serious Parisian hat houses are going in for everything Eastern, from Siamese topknot hats to Japanese pagodas and Chinese footstool. Vivid velvet numbers run the color range of a peacock's tail.

The Oriental influence apparently stems from the popularity of a Chinese ballet company which recently visited Paris.

The Asiatic theme runs riot at Orsel. His perky-Siamese topknots are sequin-scaled for

THE BRIDAL SHOP, 372 High street. This beautiful shop, interior decorated in a tasteful bridal motif, will be one of the brighter spots of the shopping area! For the bride-to-be it is the very first place to stop after you have selected the date for your wedding! From then on you need not worry about the many little problems that perplex most brides. Miss Holland-Moritz offers her talented services in suggesting what is in good taste for weddings and giving invaluable information which will make the affair smooth and successful. In fact, at your home or at the wedding, Miss Lenny Holland-Moritz will see that your wedding is the kind of a wedding you have always dreamed about! Only formal and cocktail dresses will be carried by The Bridal Shop. Bridal gowns start at $39.95 and bridesmaid's range from $25. to $39.95. If you are planning to be married soon, don't miss the big event of the fashion show, open to everyone, which will occur on or about August 5. You will get a very good idea of the lovely type of gowns and cocktail dresses that are available for today's bride. I'm sure you will want to choose your wedding apparel at the Bridal Shop! The shopping hours are the same as those of the other merchants of Pottstown, except that you can arrange for an appointment in the evening if that time is more convenient to you. I'll see you at The Bridal Shop, August 5!

cream for dessert lately? If not, shame on you! It's such an easy treat. No baking, cooking, or fuss, and the whole family just loves it! Incidentally, ice cream is about the most nutritious dessert you could serve, especially when it's from SWAVELY'S OF MEADOW BROOK FARMS. This creamy smooth-as-satin delight is our favorite. It will be yours when you try it. I enjoy making healthy salads when it is too warm to cook. Cottage cheese with meat, with vegetables, or with fruits of any kind make a filling, hearty, and delicious meal. Keep extra cottage cheese on hand for snacks for the family at any time. Spread on crackers or bread (I should say "heaped on" because that's the way my family likes it!) It's the finest bite between meals ever! Call 2028 and have some milk products delivered to your home today.

While you are in town, stop at 14 North Washington street. It's so convenient! You can see and choose from the most tempting and attractive line of baked goods I've come across in the whole town! Yes, ladies, when you try the HUBERTUS PASTRY SHOP, you will find that their baked goods are really wonderful! French and Danish pastry (which we couldn't bake anyway!) that is extremely pretty as well as so delicious will thrill your family! Other baked goods, cakes, pies, fancy breads, and buns make it entirely impossible for us to try baking our own again! And for that special occasion, order a decorated cake. Hubertus Pastry Shop is famous for its beautifully decorated cakes. And it's a convenient place to shop!

Whether you "shake, rattle, or roll," or just walk—listen to this! Since 1884, there has not been a sale like this in Pottstown! And it will be well worth your while to investigate the fabulous savings at our oldest and largest leading home furnisher,

B. E. BLOCK AND BROTHERS, 269 High street. This is their greatest August sale ever—Remarkable savings can be found in every department, living room, diningroom, bedroom, and kitchen furniture can be yours at a fraction of their real value. The sale also includes appliances, rugs, carpets, bedding, and summer furniture. Block's skillful buyers have made special purchases so, you see, you won't be buying floor samples or close out merchandise! This is fresh, clean, brand new stock that is as lovely as all the new decorator furniture you are now seeing in the home furnishing magazines. I've heard from those who know that prices for furniture definitely will be going up for the Fall season and coming year. Here is an opportunity for homemakers to buy fine nationally advertised famous made furniture at Block's and really save money! For example I saw the original of that lovely modern Kroehner sofa bed suite featured in today's Mercury in the Block's page. It's a handsome ensemble which would completely furnish a room. The seven pieces include the sofa bed, a matching chair, two lovely oak modern tables; and two beautiful modern decorator lamps. A beautiful Viko plastic armless T.V. chair which you can select in any color, is a "throw in" extra which Block's gives you. This is easily a value at $299. but the price of only $179. is just an example of the sensational home-maker bargains you can get at B. E. Block and Brother's greatest sale since 1884! So "shake, rattle or roll" yourself into Block's for all your furnishing needs—but quick!

AT GROMIS CUT RATE DRUG STORE, 332 Main street, Royersford, now is the time to buy two rolls of the wet proof tape by Curity with a tape cutter for only 49c! A real bargain for you. Pick up some plastic band aids too!

"Happy days are here again!" That will be your theme song when you use soft water! ("I hate wash day" is the chant without it!) But find out how easy it is to have by calling

ENTERPRISE 10301 (No charge) That's Culligan Soft Water company. At a very reasonable cost to you, soft water can be a part of your daily living. Soap suds, clean white clothes, and filtered drinking water spell happiness to me! # Keeping Up With The Antics Of Small Fry Is A Full-time, Overtime Task for Parents

By JANET KINDESVATTER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

"There is nothing so unchangeable as the changeability of children." These wise words, written so many years ago, should sustain the modern mother who feels she has taken leave of her senses when Junior cries for a lollipop one minute and vehemently rejects it the next.

Even the experts disagree on what makes these small beings tick. One author may write, "all children are basically alike," and in another book the confused parent will read, "no two children are alike."

And when there are three, as in the Joseph Ross household, at 47 West Seventh street, the only thing to do, according to Mrs. Ross, is "just sit back and see what develops."

"What develops" is always a surprise to Mother, who describes the children's order of command as, "Joe gives orders to Ricky, Ricky gives orders to George, and George takes orders from nobody."

Right now the most important things in the boys' lives are Davy Crockett and the Phillies.

Joe, who's eight, can't decide whether he wants to be a baseball player or an Indian scout. Four-year-old Ricky has worked out a system whereby he's Davy Crockett on third base. As for George, at 16 months of age all he wants to do is run and "catcha bawl."

George is "pretty good at pitching," reports proud father Ross, who sometimes umpires the Sunday school league baseball games. He invited the older boys to witness his latest umpiring chore, and reported that he "spent most of his time umpiring the boys on the sidelines." Mrs. Ross adds that both boys looked "as though they'd spent the whole evening sliding into third."

GET OUT O' THE LINE O' FIRE, GEORGE . . .

At 359 West Chestnut street the Davy Crockett market is sewed up by the two Bender boys, who've "shot a passel of b'ars 'n buffalo" right in their own back yard. Five-year-old Ricky and his three-year-old brother Robin are, Mrs. Richard W. Bender reports, "typical boys." So typical are they that mother just "doesn't pay any attention to their fights anymore."

Robin's last fight, however, was a memorable one. He attacked and was vanquished by a slightly older tot across the street. Then, with perfect three-year-old logic, he said as he tearfully arose from a sitting position, "See, I told you I could beat you!"

The newest addition to the Bender family, four-month-old Maxine, occupies a large place in the affections of her brothers, who hover over her crib whenever she's awake.

Robin does more hovering than Ricky, who's "afraid the fellas will laugh at me because she won't talk back."

AFTER THE BATH . . . This is the same George Ross, minus jelly, and plus his best "Mom'll never find out what I did" look

NOT ENOUGH TEETH . . . Maxine Bender, four-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Bender, 359 West Chestnut street, seems even at her tender age to have made her happy peace with the world.

When they're not talking to Maxine the boys usually are found in the back yard, right in the middle of a scouting party, with faithful dog Luckypup at their heels.

Luckypup also serves as re-

VANQUISHED HERO . . .

Robin Bender, the middle member of the Bender clan, may not win all of his neighborhood scuffles, but he'll never dispute the logical finish of the fight.

CANINE CLEANING TIPS

If you wash your dog in the bathtub, it's a big help in sudsing up and rinsing, use a spray on a hose attached to the faucet.

A rubber pad in the bottom of the tub will serve to establish a footing and make the animal feel more secure.

If your pet is the quick getaway type, attach a short lead to a pipe or faucet and clamp it to his collar when you get the pup into the tub.

DON'T 'DOCTOR' VEGETABLES

Home economists advise there's no need to add soda to frozen vegetables when cooking. Soda destroys valuable vitamins and makes the vegetables mushy; they'll be tastier, better for your health and brighter-colored if you use a minimum of water and follow directions on the package in cooking over the top burner of your range.

Old man weather appears to have dampened the crowd which attended the teen-age dance at Memorial park last night to a mere 300, one spokesman reported.

Amoles Eliminated at Narberth, 9-3

Workers Tie Quakers; Play Perkasié Tonight

No Legion Junior pennant will fly over Pottstown this season. Narberth clipped the rising hopes of the Amoles last night, 9-3, in the deciding game of the Lower Montco Legion league race. Pottstown could have tied Narberth for first place with a victory.

Although the Amoles are scheduled to play at Narberth in their final outing Saturday, the game has been canceled because Narberth has the championship clinched.

A three-run rally by Pottstown in the top of the fourth tied the score for a short time, 3-3.

But in the bottom of the frame, Narberth batting around, knocking starter Charlie Kulp out of the box on their way to a six-run spurge.

CARL SUNDSTROM relieved Kulp with the bases loaded and no body out. Narberth collected three more hits before the frame ended including a two-run double by Tony Joachim that capped the rally.

The Amoles were hitting hard, banging out eight hits, the same number credited to Narberth.

In Pottstown's uprising, Tony Miller led off with a walk. Alex Barto then pounded a double to plate Miller. After Mike Greisner grounded out, Frank Waresak belted his second single to drive in Barto. Sundstrom flied out, but Kulp drilled a run-scoring double to complete Pottstown's run-making.

After the first two batters singled and Kulp walked the next one to open the bottom of the fourth, coach Buck Rhoads lifted Charlie in favor of Sundstrom. Up to that point, Kulp had allowed five hits, almost as many as he had given up in five previous games.

Al Dori, who was the team's only undefeated pitcher, played first last night and concluded the season with a two-for-three night although he was unable to advance past first base.

Stubby Irv Hartz pushed a single through the drawn-in Emmanuel Lutheran infield last night to give Coventryville Methodist a 3-2 victory in the seventh inning.

Cy Moses, who had gone in for Sam Porter scored from third with the winning run. It was the only time in the game that Coventryville was ahead.

Emmanuel scored both its runs in the first inning on Doug Moser's long homer to left-centerfield. With two out, Ernie Schultz was hit by a pitch.

Moser then connected with one of Frank Fries' pitches and knocked it into the weeds behind left field.

Fries and relief pitcher Ralph Moses blanked Emmanuel the rest of the way, striking out four and not allowing any walks.

THE METHODISTS struck back in the fourth for a pair of runs to tie the score. Fries and Bud Betcher reached losing pitcher Schaeffer for singles to start the frame and then advanced on a wild pitch.

Moser, catching for Emmanuel made a wild throw to third and Fries scored, and when Schultz booted the ball in leftfield, Betcher also raced around to score.

Ken Batdorf opened the last of the seventh for Coventryville with a walk but he was forced at second by Porter. Cliff Carthy's single moved Porter to third and Moses was called in to run for Sam.

The Emmanuel infield was playing in to cut off the possible squeeze attempt and little Hartz fooled them by belting the ball past

Late Model Stocks To Race at Sanatoga

The point leadership of the Sizzling Circuit of Speed will hang in the balance Saturday night when the 24 late-model stock cars and their drivers invade Sanatoga speedway for a six-event program. Time trials will begin at 7:30 o'clock and racing starts at 8:30.

Five drivers are currently very much in the running for the rich point championship of the circuit, which is based in Grouped in third place are Tony Occhino, Canada; Pappy Warrington, Buffalo, and Joe Sykes, Tonawanda, N. Y.

Occhino is the only driver in the pack who does not adhere to the standard coupes and sedans driven by his conferees. The Canadian achieves considerable distinction by driving the only Cadillac convertible in the circuit and doing right well with the flashy machine.

Warrington drives a 1955 Oldsmobile in which he won a recent feature at Dorney Park, Allentown, and Sykes goes to the post in a 1954 Dodge.

THE LEADERS and nearly 20 other drivers will go to the post in three heat races, a consolation and a 100-lap feature in the first late model auto racing presentation in Sanatoga's recent history.

After a long trip to Quakertown last night, USWA 2326 had nothing to show for their efforts but some good pitching and some wasted hitting.

The Workers tied Quakertown Legion, 3-3, in a Bucks-Mont league game.

Tonight USWA will be in the role of spoiler, hosting Perkasié at Memorial field No. 1, at 6:15 o'clock. Perkasié is running a hot race with Perkomen and Souderton for the league championship.

A win by Pat Sundstrom's young workers may dump the Perkasié bunch right out of the pennant chase.

Last night the Pottstown team started with a rush, scoring three times in the first inning and then allowed several other scoring chances to escape.

WITH TWO DOWN in the first, Cliff Long drew a walk. Bob Freese spanked a single to right and after he stole second base, both runners scored on Bob Sandoe's double down the right field line.

Bill Ellis kept the rally going with a single to right to drive in Sandoe with the third run.

The Workers had runners on base every inning after that except the third, but failed to score again.

Quakertown scored once in the first on a hit batsman by starter Cal Tatman, a single and an error. Another error and a single gave the home club a tally in the second.

Their tying run was scored without the benefit of a hit. A walk, a stolen base, a ground out and a sacrifice fly gave Quakertown a marker in the fifth.

After walking two batters in the third inning, Tatman was lifted in favor of Dale Kirby who struck out the first man he faced, walked the next to load the bases and then got the final batter on a grounder to second.

Levengood conquered Trinity last night, 5-2, in a Knee-Hi league game at Memorial field No. 3.

The Daermen vaulted to an early lead by scoring three runs in the first inning. Bruce Ricketts led off with a single to left, and Randy Caulk followed with a single to right, advancing Ricketts to second. On the next pitch, both runners advanced with stolen bases.

Oliver Terry made first on a fielder's choice, scoring Ricketts. A costly error permitted Kulp and Terry to score.

In the fourth, for Trinity, Joe Mosleh started things off by singling to right. Ken Sobresky belted a long drive over the right fielder's head for a home run, scoring the team's only runs.

Jan had a 10-0 record with USWA

Hallman allowed the ball to roll right for a triple. He scored as John Artim beat out an infield hit although Haines made a great stop and throw near second base.

The threat died, however, as Hallman popped up and Raybold grounded out.

Irey matched Fritz in the strike-out department with eight, and he walked three while Jan passed only one.

WHIZZING OVER THE WAVES—Dick Rees likes to go faster on water than some folks do on land. Here he takes a workout in his 11-foot runabout in full racing regalia. His latest victory was on the Potomac river where he won the Class B utility event.

Local Speedboat Racer

Dick Rees Winning Fame on Water

A Pottstown speedboat racer, the biggest speedboat race won out in a hectic competition on the Potomac river last Saturday, out the national speedboat champion, Ronny Zuback, Morgan, N. J., to win the coveted President's cup.

Richard Rees, 27, of 662 Walnut street, finished first in the Class B utility race, after gaining the lead on the first lap and fighting off every challenger in the three succeeding laps.

His boat, the Dee Gee, went into a violent spin on the turn of the last lap, but Rees recovered masterfully and raced across the finish line.

Five thousand racing fans lined the banks of the Potomac river at Washington, D. C. to watch Rees speed around the four-lap course at an average speed of 45.547 miles per hour.

Rees, a chipper at the Bethlehem Steel company, was the winner of the 1954 President's cup.

Dick will try for a repeat win year when the President's cup race is held Sept. 17, at Washington, D. C.

A SPEEDBOAT RACER for five years, Rees holds the 1954 High Points trophy, an annual racing award presented to the racer who amasses the greatest number of points in competition on the Delaware river each year.

The speedboat racing season opens in May and lasts until the end of September or the early part of October.

In the days when Rees was in the Merchant Marines, 1945-46, he dreamed of having his own boat. When he returned to civilian life in 1946, Rees built his own boat. Thinking only of owning a boat for pleasure when he first started building boats, Rees became interested in speedboats and began racing in 1950.

Rees now supports his expensive hobby by building and selling racing boats in the cellar of his residence. Never having any formal training in boat-building, Rees is a self-taught boatwright.

Like his father, Rees' son, Barry, 3, has a yen for speed, but it's all on the ground. Barry is a stock car enthusiast. He often attends the races at Sanatoga speedway.

Rees now owns two racers, the Dee Gee, a Class B utility racer, and the Miss Fitt, a Class A utility racer.

In five years of speedboat competition, Rees has won more than 90 trophies.

Indians Only 2 Games Out of First As Rosen's Hitting Helps Beat Bosox

BOSTON, July 28 (AP)—The defending champion Cleveland Indians moved to within a game of the American League lead today with a 6-4 triumph over the fighting Boston Red Sox. Al Rosen's two-run homer and a critical strikeout of Ted Williams by reliever Don Mossi featured the big Tribe victory.

The Indians helped tighten the AL pennant picture, as Chicago beat New York 3-2 to pull ahead of the Yanks by two percentage points. The fourth place Red Sox remained three behind.

Rosen drove in three runs with his homer and a single but it was the left-handed Mossi, inserted to face Williams after Boston got its third run in the eighth inning, who saved the day.

Down 6-2, Boston chased Indian starter Early Wynn after pinch-hitter Eddie Joost walked. Billy Goodman singled and Billy Klaus doubled for a run. Mossi came in to face the left-handed slugger Williams and got him on a called third strike.

PAR, St. John's and Diamond Glass all trail GI Raiders by a half game. Earl Strom, league director, said the league is slated to end its regular schedule next week.

Doehlers will play an exhibition game under the lights tonight at Kulptown. The team will leave from Eddie's Luncheonette at 7 o'clock.

Buhl brought his season record to 8-7 after surviving a shaky two-run first inning. He never was in trouble after that.

The Braves handed little Murry Dickson his seventh loss and the first defeat in his last four starts. The crafty, 38-year-old knuckleballer ran his scoreless string over the Braves to 11 innings before they notched two in the third to tie it up.

The Phillies boasted 14 victories in 15 starts before hitting County Stadium.

With two out in the fifth, the Braves took the lead and iced their fourth victory in a row as Mathews belted one of Dickson's pitches over the fence in right.

They added an insurance run in the same frame as Henry Aaron walked, stole second and rode home on a single by Del Crandall.

The Phillies got their runs in the first on an error, double play,

Giants Win, 4-1, as Leo Returns

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP)—The New York Giants celebrated Manager Leo Durocher's return to the helm today by handing the Cubs a 4-1 licking to gain a split of the four-game series.

Durocher, returning from his mother's funeral, watched Ruben Gomez and Paul Giel shackle the Chicagoans on five hits.

More Trouble

PHILADELPHIA, July 28 (AP)—A Philadelphia firm today brought suit against light heavyweight Harold Johnson seeking to recover a trap drum, a gold-plated tenor saxophone and an amplifier.

Henry E. Glass and company said in a municipal court action that the fighter bought the instruments and the amplifier—valued at $619—on the installment plan last April 19, hasn't made any payments since May and still owes $319.50.

Giel got into the act to pick up his third victory against three losses when Gomez retired in the third inning after pulling a muscle in his right shoulder. Giel fanned nine and walked five.

Bob Rush yielded only four singles in his seven-inning stint—but all figured in the Giants' big third inning.

Capt. Al Dark opened the productive third with a single and Gomez walked with one out. Wayne Terwilliger's sixth hit of the series scored Dark. Whitey Lockman singled for the second run and Willie Mays' sharp safety to right scored two more.

The Cubs' lone run was posted in the eighth when Ernie Banks walked with two out and came around on Hank Sauer's double to right.

Rush, who gave way to Dave Hillman in the eighth, struck out eight and walked two.

CHISOX IN LEAD AFTER 3-2 WIN OVER YANKEES

NEW YORK, July 28 (P)—Lefty Chisolm struck out pinchhitter Jerry Coleman with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning today to send Chicago back into first place in the blazing American League, two percentage points ahead of New York, with a 3-2 victory over the Yankees.

Until the ninth, Connie Johnson, a 32-year-old right-hander up from Toronto, held the Yanks under control. A single by Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle's 22nd home run suddenly narrowed his lead to one run. And after Bobby Adams fumbled Bill Skowron's grounder for an error, Pierce came into pitch.

Pinchhitter Hank Bauer fled to Minnie Minoso but Phil Rizzuto walked. Casey Stengel sent another pinchhitter to the plate, Elston Howard, to bat for relief pitcher Jim Konstanty. Howard grounded out, moving the runners to second and third. Manager Marty Marion ordered Andy Carey passed intentionally, loading the bases.

Stengel called for Coleman, who had been hit on the head in the last series between the two clubs, to bat for Joe Collins against the left-handed reliever. Pierce responded to the challenge by striking out Coleman to end the game.

Hungarian Breaks Landy's 1500-Meter Mark

HELSINKI, July 28 (P)—Sandor Iharos of Hungary, slim 22-year-old Army lieutenant, today broke the world record for 1500 meters before a frenzied crowd of 50,000 in the Olympic stadium in time that was the equivalent of a mile in 3:58.

Iharos, who now holds the world marks for 1500 and 3000 meters, and for two miles, will run the mile in the Hungary-Britain meet in London Aug. 12-13 in an attempt to crack Landy's mark of 3:58.

Today's race was a duel between Iharos and his team-mate, Istvan Rozsavoelgyi. The pace world standard set last year by John Landy of Australia. This gave Iharos his third world record in three months.

Iharos was timed for 1500 in 3:40.8, one full second under the world standard set last year by John Landy of Australia. This gave Iharos his third world record in three months.

equivalent of the half mile) in the astounding time of 1:55.7. He was clocked at 2:26.2 for 1000 meters, and in the final 300 he put on a burst of speed that carried him well ahead of his rival, who finished in 3:42.8. O. Vuorisala of Finland was third in 3:46.2.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE FUNNIEST CARTOON I've heard about in weeks (if any reader will identify the artist I'll be happy to print his name another day) depicts a puzzled doctor who has cut up a victim on his operating table to a face-three-well. "By George!" he is exclaiming angrily. "That fresh young interne was right after all. There's nothing wrong with this patient whatever!"

Francis Duffy divides gossip-mongers into three categories: 1. The vest-button type: always popping off. 2. The vacuum-cleaner type: always picking up the dirt. 3. The liniment type: always rubbing it in.

Evansburg Family Entertains 2 Guests; Girls Softball Team to End Season

EVANSBURG — Mrs. Donald Yerkes, co-chairman of the Evansburg family, entertained two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loughery and family, at her home, 9103 Del. Phone Pottstown 6000.

Mr. and Mrs. Loughery and family are entertaining as their houseguests for two weeks Sue Sullivan, of Ringtown, and Betty and Peter Fox, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Lower Perkiomen Little Lassie Softball league will wind up its activities on Saturday morning, July 30, when the final Shaughnessy playoffs will be played on the Superior Tube grounds beginning at 10 a. m. The regular league winners, the Tigers, will play the Athletics, the Phillies and the Pirates in the closing games of the season.

At the joint Little League and Little Lassies picnic which was held on Saturday evening, eight girls from the Little Lassies League were presented with "certificates of participation" as, due to their age, they will no longer be eligible for the league.

They were Mary Hefelfinger and Bernie Korsznjak of the Tigers; Joan Waltemyer and Dorothy Ramsey of the A's; Pat Duffy and Janice Sweetwood of the Pirates; and Miriam Spare and Nancy Lytle of the Phillies.

THE APPRECIATION of the community has also been extended to Superior Tube company, to Mrs. Lawson Earl and her assistant, Floss Mitsch, of Norristown, G. Sieber Pancoast and Lawson Earl, who served as umpires for the games, and all of the coaches and managers, whose efforts made this activity available to the girls in the community.

On Monday evening, beginning at 6 p. m., the Little Lassies, as in previous years, will sponsor a cake sale at the first game of the Little League district playoffs being held on the Superior Tube grounds. Proceeds from the sale will go into the Little League treasury, which sponsors the Little Lassies, in an effort to replace funds spent on them during the season.

Bethlehem Steel Declares Dividend

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—The board of directors of Bethlehem Steel corporation today declared a dividend of $1.75 a share on common stock, payable Sept. 1 to holders of record Aug. 8.

Bethlehem reported its net income for the June quarter of 1955 totaled $47,006,062, equal to $4.74 a common share, compared with $30,755,412 or $3.04 a share, for the second quarter of 1954. This brought the half-year earnings to $82,319,324, or $8.25 a share, compared with $58,558,350, or $5.77 a share, for the first six months of 1954.

Production in the second quarter totaled 4,792,555 net tons of ingots and steel for castings and the company's plants operated at an average of 100.6 percent of rated capacity. This compared with 4,321,918 tons in the first quarter when Bethlehem operated at an average of 91.8 percent of the company's present rated annual capacity of 19,100,000 tons.

In the second quarter of 1954, while production and income were slowly picking up during the business readjustment, Bethlehem produced 3,379,046 tons, operating at an average rate of 73.3 percent of its smaller 1954 capacity.
